Magic Little Meals

Making the most of homegrown produce

LOLO HOUBEIN AND TORI ARBON

HB 352 PP 200 x 200 Full colour t/out ISBN 9781743055793 Food/Gardening $49.95

Warm, witty and wise, this practical garden-to-table cookbook will help you not just to grow your own food – but eat it, too.

Put yourself in the expert hands of gardening guru Lolo Houbein, author of the international hit One Magic Square, and organic farmer Tori Arbon, of urban foodgrowing workshops Magic Harvest.

Find out how to grow (and prepare) more than fifty fruits and vegetables, with recipes ranging from simple snacks and finger food to inventive soups and salads, warming stews and curries, to dinner-party risottos and vegetable roasts. Whether your taste runs to French onion soup or Hungarian goulash, spanakopita or sweet potato fritters, you'll find bountiful ideas for turning your garden produce into delicious food.

Magic Little Meals includes a host of bonus garden tips, on everything from edible garden activities for children to filling a raised garden bed.

Key selling points

- Growing and eating your own food has never been more topical or on-trend – and Lolo helped popularise it with the international bestseller One Magic Square.
- Magic Little Meals is a back-to-basics, anyone-can-make version of Stephanie Alexander's Kitchen Garden Companion, ideal for customers attracted to the philosophy, but daunted by complex recipes.

Foundational Fictions in South Australian History

EDITED BY CAROLYN COLLINS AND PAUL SENDZIUK

PB 264 PP 234 x 156 10 B&W images ISBN 9781743056066 History $34.95

In this lively, provocative collection, some of Australia's leading historians – and a Miles Franklin shortlisted historical novelist – challenge established myths, narratives and 'beautiful lies' about South Australia's past. Some are unmasked as false stories that mask brutal realities, like colonial violence – while others are revealed as simplistic versions of more complex truths.

In Foundational Fictions, which grew out of a series of public lectures at the University of Adelaide, an impressive range of contributors suggest different ways in which familiar narratives of South Australia can be interpreted. These essays tap into wider debates, too, about the nature and purpose of history – and the 'history wars' first flamed by John Howard.

Stuart Macintyre highlights South Australia's central role in several national events. Humphrey McQueen questions the origins and influence of the money behind South Australia's so-called progressive founding. Lucy Treloar suggests historians can learn from novelists when it comes to understanding the past. And Steven Anderson argues that Don Dunstan's achievement in abolishing capital punishment owed much to a historical movement.

Pens and Bayonets

Letters from the Front by Soldiers of Yorke Peninsula during the Great War

EDITED AND WITH COMMENTARY BY DON LONGO

PB 358 PP 234 x 156 B&W images t/out ISBN 9781743056103 Australian History $39.95

Pens and Bayonets gives voice to the young Australian soldiers who volunteered to fight for our freedom in the Great War. South Australia, and Yorke Peninsula in particular, were proud to provide soldiers for their country. They answered the call willingly, with many thinking it may be all over before they got there. How wrong they were.

The letters were written during quiet periods and give an insight and sometimes graphic account of the day-to-day encounters during the Gallipoli campaign and various offensives on the Western Front and Palestine.

Communication options abound in the modern age, but imagine the challenges of 100 years ago, with your son, brother, uncle or nephew on the other side of the world, fighting in what we now know to be horrendous conditions, writing a letter home. The letters the soldiers received, many weeks after being written, gave comfort and solace to these men, and provided their only contact with loved ones. Don Longo has gathered many of these moving letters and set them in their historical context to bring these soldiers back to life.

South Australia

State of transformation

EDITED BY JOHN SPOEHR

PB 296 PP 234 x 156 Colour images t/out ISBN 9781743056059 Politics/Australiana $49.95

South Australia – and the world – is entering a time of transformational change: social, economic, industrial and environmental. As a new government takes the reins, it has the power to shape the future of our state and its citizens at a crucial moment.

The automotive industry has closed, but maritime shipbuilding projects are booming. Automation and artificial intelligence technologies are on the rise – and with them, both fears of jobs lost and the promise of increased productivity and wellbeing. Which way will we go?

In this insightful collection of essays, some of South Australia's leading policy thinkers consider our future in the context of jobs, our economy and its drivers, industrial relations, law and order, the environment, education, health (including ageing and aged care) and more.

Colonial Settlers on the River Torrens

ROGER IRVINE FOR THE CITY OF CAMPBELLTOWN

PB 168 PP 265 x 218 Colour images t/out ISBN 9781743056042 History $39.95

This book tells the stories of the first generation of European settlers to take up properties on the upper reaches of the River Torrens in the north-east area of Adelaide, after the colony of South Australia began in 1836. They were the first to intensively cultivate the land in the present-day suburbs of Campbelltown, Paradise and Athelstone.

The outstanding historical achievement of these settlers was their major contribution to the development of horticulture. Another important narrative, however, was the displacement of the Aboriginal population. This book acknowledges that Europeans were not the first settlers in this region – and recounts the harsh treatment of the indigenous Kaurna people.

Kin

An extraordinary Australian filmmaking family

EDITED BY AMANDA DUTHIE

PB 198 PP 210 x 140 31 B&W images t/out ISBN 9781743056028 Film $24.95

In Kin: An extraordinary Australian filmmaking family, artists and filmmakers from all over the world pay tribute to the indomitable Freda Glynn and her family. Freda championed Aboriginal screen storytelling with global impact, helping establish CAAMA and Imparja Television in the 1980s. Her daughter Erica Glynn and son Warwick Thornton are internationally renowned filmmakers, and her grandchildren Dylan River and Tanith Glynn-Maloney bring a fresh vision to the third generation.

'What I love is that when they stand together as a family we get to see what they have given to our Australian screen industry, their extraordinary impact and legacy.' – Deborah Mailman

Key selling points

- This unique celebration of an Indigenous family of prominent filmmakers, including Warwick Thornton (Samson and Delilah), is perfect for this cultural moment, when the importance of representing diverse and Indigenous voices on our screens is an urgent issue.
- Includes essays from some of Australia's biggest film names, including Deborah Mailman, Scott Hicks, David Stratton and Margaret Pomeranz.

Middle Kingdom

A colonial history of the highlands of Papua New Guinea

JAMES SINCLAIR

Jacketed HB 486 PP 297 x 214 B&W images t/out ISBN 9781863333344 History $89.95

This classic, clear-eyed account, writes renowned historian Bill Gammage, is 'the most comprehensive record of first contact anywhere in the world'. Middle Kingdom chronicles the European 'discovery', exploration, 'pacification' and development of the Papua New Guinea Highlands to 1975, during the decades when PNG was an Australian colony. Jim Sinclair's book goes far beyond sagas of exploration to document the region's development through administration, industry and a growing infrastructure.

'Middle Kingdom is as detailed and well researched as a history should be, but the anecdotes, illustrations, maps and superb index offer an outstanding experience for the reader. It is a book for every location between the coffee table and the university library, a wonderful compendium of a critical time in the history of PNG written by a man who understood the significance of the period in which he was both an important participant and an acute observer.' – Australian
